FEASTS AND HOLY DAYS OF ISRAEL

Passover (pesah) - In the memory of the deliverance of the children of Israel from slavery in Egypt. Passover is commemorated on the 14th of Abib (Ex. 12:2, 13:4), and it is combined with the Feast of Unleavened Bread on 15 Abib. During the seventh day of Nissan 15-21, nothing with leaven is eaten. In the temple time until 70 A.D whenever it was impossible to keep Passover at the appointed time of 14 Abib, it was observed a month later as Second Passover, on 14 Iyyar.

For Christians, Passover is important because of crucifixion and atoning death of God's Messiah on 14 Abib. When in the cross He expiated the sin of our fore father Ada, restored us to Almighty's favor, and likewise atoned for our sins and guilt. Before His trial and crucifixion, in the same night which Iscariot betrayed Him, He instituted apostolic ministry together with the new covenant oblation which is the holy sacrament of the Lord's supper, offered of Him until His second coming at the end of this age. The account is related in the books of Gospel (Lk 22, Mt 26, 1C 11:23-29. Jn 13). The time of commemorating the Lord's supper is after the sunset of 13 Abib, when 14 Abib commences. Since the Biblical times the day has always been reckoned from sunset to sunset, and not midnight as in manner of Romans, nor from sunrise in manner of Egyptians. This is because the month commences at the appearance of the new moon, which is visible at nightfall.

FEAST OF WEEKS (Shavu'oth) – PENTECOST – The Feast of The First Fruits, Lk 23:16-21, Dt 16: 9-10. It is customary to adorn the synagogues with green plants and flowers. In the synagogue service, the book of Ruth is chanted with the reading of Ten Commandments and the account of Mt Sinai.

For Christians, the feast of the weeks has special significance because it was in this festive (in Greek-' pentekoste hemera' means fiftieth day), that the holy Ghost, and began to speak with other tongues, as the spirit gave them utterances Acts 2:1-4).

DAY OF TRUMPET-SOUNDING (Yom Teru'ah) CIVIL NEW YEAR (Rosh Ha -Shanah) Lv23:24-25-Speak unto the children of Israel, Saying, In the seventh month in the first day of the month, shall ye have a Sabbath, a memorial of blowing of trumpets, an holy convocation. Ye shall do no servile work (therein): but ye shall offer an offering of fire unto the LORD. NB 29:1 and in the seventh month on the first (day) of the month, ye shall have an holy convocation; ye shall do no servile work: it is a day of blowing trumpets unto you.

Encyclopedia Judaica Vol. 12 column 1061: The first of Tishri is New Year for the civil calendar, including the counting of reigns of the foreign kings. For the sabbatical and jubilee years (ploughing and planting been forbidden from that date). And for the year of planting fruits and vegetables.

DAY OF ATONEMENT (Yom Kippur)-In the Bible this is the day Almighty commanded the Hebrew people to observe with total fast, during which day the high priest offered prescribed sacrifices for the expiration of sin and guilt (Lv 16:29,23:27; NB 29:7-11). Since there has been no temple following its destruction, in summer of 70 A.D, it remains impossible for Jews to obey to this commandment unless Mosaic tabernacle is found, or the third temple is built, and the priesthood is restored. This day of atonement on Tishri 10 remain for Jews the most sacred occasion in the entire year, on which they attend services in synagogues. All adult fast for 24 hours without food or drink, unless sick or on medication. Boys under 13 years and girls under 12 are exempted.

TABERNACLES (Sukkoth).The feast of ingathering farmers assembled in the autumn, to thank Almighty, after gathering all there grapes, olives and the produce of their fields. This seven days solemnity commemorate the sojourning of the Israelites during forty years in the wildness, dwelling in booth or huts, called "sukkot" in Hebrews. The fragile nature of such temporary dwellings made Israelites perceive their utter dependence on Almighty. The eighth day Tishri 22, is a separate celebration and are of the solemn Assembly, called Shemini Asereth (Ex 23:16,Lv 23:41-43, Dt16:13-15). Tabernacles begin on 15th of Tishri. During the festival Of Tabernacles in Israel today, it is customary for every household to erect a booth, "Sukkah" having at least three walls, with roof being made of leaves and branches, in which both the family and the guest take their meals. There are also those who sleep in the booth. REJOICING IN THE LAW (Simcha Torah)-In the evening including 21 Tishri, celebration in rejoining in the Law Simcha Torah, begins. In Israel this is the 22nd day of Tishri, the very day of" Shemini Asereth "(Lv23:36). In the countries of diaspora this celebration is held in the following day, 23 Tishri. Jews dance with sacred scroll of the law on the eve of Simhath Torah. In this day the annual cycle of the synagogue reading of Torah is completed and a new cycle begins in Genesis. On the Simhath Torah eve, and the following morning, all the scrolls are taken from the synagogue ark (which is the cabinet), and are carried around in the procession, in the synagogue, while the congregation sing songs of praise.

DEDICATION (Hanukah) The feast of light-According to tradition, this festival was began in the days of Hasmonaeen Priest Judah Maccabee and his followers in 164 B.C. after the successful rebellion against Antiochus Epiphanes of the Seleucid Grecian Empire. At dusk during the eight days of this festival, one additional light is lit for each day, until on the eighth day eight lamps are burning. This is said to commemorate the miracle of oil which took place after Maccabee recovered the Temple from the Greek s. it was discovered that the Greeks had defiled all the oil reserved for the seven lamps of the Temple candelabrum, called Minorah except for one cause, which contained only sufficient oil for the candelabrum to remain rekindled for one day. However a miracle occurred and the oil lasted for eight days, until new supply could be obtained. In remembrance of Almighty's Miraculous intervention, the feast of Hanukah was instituted. It begins on 25 Kislev. The first lamp of candle is lit on eve, at dusk on 24 Kislev.

LOT (Purim) – This was instituted under the Persian rule of Xerxes 1 (Ahasuerus) 486-564 B.C, in the days of Mordecai and Queen Esther, to celebrate the deliverance of Jews from Haman's plot to kill them. Esther 9. The book of Esther is chanted in synagogue on Purim. A special meal is eaten in the afternoon, traditionally including beans and peas as a reminder of pulse Daniel and his three companions ate in King's palace. In Israel on this day Jewish children dress in various costumes as Queen Esther, Haman, etc. Purim is celebrated on 14 Adar except in the walled cities, such as Jerusalem, where is celebrated on 15 Adar. This is because the Jews in walled city of Shushan, in Elam, celebrated their deliverance on 15 Adar. In leap years, when there are thirteen months with second month of Adar, Purim is then celebrated in the month of second Adar.

The Biblical Festal Year begins in spring because it is was in this season that Almighty delivered the Hebrews from slavery in Egypt, and when there new life in trees and flowers coming into bloom.- The Lord spoke unto Moses and Aaron in land of Egypt saying, This month shall be unto you the beginning of months; It shall be the first month for you. Ex 12:1-2. Ex 13:4, Est 3:7. It falls during the second half of March and the first half of April.

This calendar gives international Roman months and days, together with the Hebrew months and days. It also list Jewish and Biblical holy days with important Israelite commemorations: patriarchs, prophets, several pious kings of Israel and other righteous Hebrews whose lives were dedicated to Almighty. All Sabbaths, the first day of the Hebrew months, and Jewish and Biblical holy days are printed in red. The calendar begins with March and ends with April of the next year. This follows the ancient Biblical (liturgical) year, which begins with the First Month, as it is called in Holy Scripture, but was called Abib in Hebrew by the pagan Canaanite, and Abib in Akkadian language of the Babylonians and Assyrian's. Conservative grounds of Israelites refuse to use either the Canaanite or Babylonian names of the months but maintained ordinal numbers from 'First to 'Twelfth'. Abib, Ziw, Ethanim and Bul are the names used by the pagan of Canaan.

The Jewish calendar is lunisolar; that is, the months are reckoned according to the moon, and the years of the twelve or thirteen months, according to the sun. To balance the lunar months which have either 29 or 30 days each, totaling 354 days in a purely lunar year, with the solar year of 365 or 366 days, in seven out of the 19 year of lunar cycle, an extra month – Adar II – is added. The Jewish civil calendar begins in the autumn with the Seventh Month, Tishri (Ethanim), due to the agricultural year of ploughing and plating, whereas the Biblical sacred or liturgical year commences in the spring with Abib. In the Romans calendar, which one uses to- day, the New year formerly begins with March, when September was seventh month,. Later the Christian New Year began on 25 March according to the European reckoning, until the late 1700's when it was put back to the New Roman Year of 1 January. The counting of years follows various eras, according to the reckoning of years of history recorded in the book of Genesis. This is basis for the Jewish year of Creation which rabbis' say was in 3761 B.C., with Almighty's creation of Adam in the month of Tishri which means ' beginning'. When one counts the total number of years recorded in the Bible from Adam until the destruction of the second Temple in 70 A.D., one notices that the Rabbinate's reckoning of 3761, is 246 years less than the actual total. By restoring the 246 years which have been omitted, the years of Biblically recorded history ought therefore to date from 4007 B.C., rather than from 3761 B.C.
